

Gary Zelesky's exciting, enthusiastic energy and explosive humor are definitely memorable, but it is his PASSION for life and the audience and his ability to connect with them in a way few do that make Gary such a highly requested speaker.

Since Gary began speaking in the 1970's, his love for people and desire to see them take their life to the next level propelled him to speak to those in need of motivation and hope. One thing Gary understood all too well was the need for hope. As a child, Gary was abused by his alcoholic stepfather and abandoned by his mother. Regardless of the difficult surroundings that Gary found himself in, he also found, if you look—if you choose, there are also incredible human beings who do believe in you.

One of the most passionate and requested presenters on the speaking circuit today, Gary has been presenting to audiences around the world for over 25 years. From tears of laughter to tears of reflection, Gary has a way of grabbing his audience that few possess. Maybe it is his explosive energy, perhaps it is dramatic sense of humor, or maybe it is the passion in which he challenges you to think, but most likely it is all three combined that makes Gary stand out amongst other speakers.

Testimonials

"Thank you for speaking at Dentistry LIVE 2012 in London. I would definitely recommend you to anyone looking to make their event stand out from the rest. Your lectures are inspirational, engaging and unique! You are always a success with delegates - with brilliant feedback on the day with regards to both the motivating content and your enthusiastic delivery. We are always asked to have you speak again at future FMC events, which we would absolutely love to do as you are a pleasure to work with and you liven up all of our seminars!"
