☐ Our Gateway for Cancer Research family has had the great pleasure of working with Ms. Caroline Rhea for multiple charity events over the past several years. Caroline has a personal connection to our cause and her willingness to support Gateway through our events and across her platform helps elevate and amplify our mission. She is dedicated and passionate about the organizations she represents. She has served as an engaging and gracious event host/emcee and auctioneer at our Gateway for Cancer Research signature events - Vino con Stelle, Cures and celebrity Fight Night. These events raise over $6,000,000 annually and there's no one else we would trust more to work with our team. Caroline's sense of humor, grace, and genuine concern to help others is a blessing and we are honored that she has supported Gateway and the Stephenson family by going above and beyond her scope of work. Her ability to connect with the audience second to none and has proven to be a critical component of our event fundraising strategy, all while keeping the audience engaged and laughing. The stakeholders and principals at Gateway ave developed a genuine relationship with Caroline and are pleased to highly recommend her to other organizations looking for engaging representation at their events.□
