

Martin Biegelman is Managing Director and Leader of the Investigations Practice at SunHawk Consulting, LLC, a risk, compliance, and investigations consulting firm. He is also the founder and Principal of Martin Biegelman Advisors LLC, also a risk, compliance, and investigations consulting firm. Martin brings decades of experience investigating and preventing fraud and corruption as well as the development of corporate compliance and anti-fraud programs while in leadership roles in law enforcement, consulting, and the corporate sector. His extensive experience includes Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and anti-bribery compliance, fraud and financial investigations, litigation consulting, investigative due diligence, conflicts of interest, whistle-blower retaliation and other employee and vendor misconduct, as well as corporate compliance assessment, design, and enhancement across industries. He has conducted and managed complex and high-risk investigations and engagements in more than 70 countries. Prior to joining Deloitte, he worked at two international consulting firms where he served first as a Managing Director in the Global Investigations and Compliance Practice and then as Executive Vice President of the Anti-Bribery and Litigation Support Practices. In 2002, Martin founded and led Microsoft Corporation's Financial Integrity Unit, a highly acclaimed global business conduct investigations and compliance program that continues to serve as a model for other companies. He led that program until 2011. Martin is a former federal agent having served as a United States Postal Inspector in a variety of investigative and management assignments across the country. As a Postal Inspector and Team Leader, he conducted and supervised thousands of...

Martin Biegelman

Speech Topics

- Management
- Ethics
- Corporate Culture
- Business Speakers
- Business Ethics
- Business Culture

