

Born and raised among Northern California's expansive and abundant farmlands, Erinn Valencich is used to broad horizons and infinite possibilities.

"I grew up on a ranch outside Sacramento," Erinn Valencich explains. "My grandfather had a background in fine cabinetry; I grew up making doll furniture out of his scrap wood! My father had studied with Frank Lloyd Wright. We were a very creative family."

That early exposure to home design launched Erinn Valencich on a professional journey that has made her one of the most busy and versatile designers working today, and allowed her to build a business with no limits in sight.

Erinn Valencich began her career working with Susie Coelho, assisting the lifestyle guru with a number of projects, including two bestselling books. In her six years working with Coelho, Erinn Valencich worked on dozens of projects, and learned the business of style. This business acumen combined with Valencich's own great taste and high-spirited style is the basis of her growing success. She became a master of presentation, creating beautiful environments and entertaining effortlessly.

Her taste and passion for fine living, as well as her ebullient personality led to appearances on The View, Extra!, and FLN. Erinn Valencich has hosted several one hour specials for HGTV including: designing Jewel's ranch home in Texas, "25 Great Holiday Ideas," "Decked for the Holidays," "Light it Up!" and "Fantasy Wedding in a Week" in addition to being seen on as a tastemaker on E! and Access Hollywood. Erinn Valencich has her own television series in development and is writing her first book--a do-it-yourself guide to decorating. In 2010, Erinn Valencich partnered with Quick-Step to launch their new line of floorin...

Erinn Valencich

Speech Topics

- Social
- Personal Growth
- Inspiration
- Creativity

