

Gina Schreck is a technology-enthusiast, social media expert and all around CHIC GEEK! Aside from being the co-founder and Digital Immigration Officer of SynapseConnecting and Synapse 3Di, a technology and social engagement company, she is an international speaker, author of several books including Getting' Geeky with Twitter, and was the technical editor on the latest Complete Idiots Guide to Social Media! Gina also hosts the popular and fun tech shows, GETTIN' GEEKY, and SCHRECK TECK, where she helps people use today's technology to build business and engage communities. Gina was ranked as one of the top 50 women influencers on-line in FastCompany's Influence project. Gina Schreck is married and has 4 tech-savvy children (who are also featured on many of the Getting' Geeky episodes) and was once featured on the cover of a magazine in a strait jacket! (Which she feels very comfortable in!) Call Executive Speakers Bureau to book Gina Schreck 901-754-9404.

Testimonials

“Gina hit a grand slam with her Keynote presentation at the National Association of Professional Organizer's National Conference. Entertaining, vast knowledge, interesting, content rich, dynamic, energetic, and delightful are all words we can use to describe Gina, but the proof is over 700 individuals ALL loved Gina.”

- National Association of Professional Organizers.

“What a tremendous job you did at our conference. From great content that was relevant and action oriented to your fun style of delivery—you were the talk of the show. Thank you”
