

Todd Benjamin is well known to television audiences across the globe. For 26 years he worked as an anchor, correspondent, and financial editor for CNN. During that time he was based in Washington DC, New York, Tokyo, and London.

Todd's wide-ranging international experience and informed opinions, combined with his engaging style have made Todd a sought after moderator and interviewer, often working with the same clients year after year.

Todd works closely with his clients to ensure that their conferences and meetings will be energizing, informative, and effective.

He always begins a conversation with clients, "What are the main themes or points you want your audience to walk away with, both from a content and branding viewpoint. How can I help assure you that the money you are spending on this event is money well spent, reflecting well on you and the firm."

His clients range from Fortune 500 companies to law firms and private equity firms.

An award winning journalist, Todd has interviewed Mikhail Gorbachev, Bill Clinton, Alan Greenspan, Tony Blair, Dick Cheney, as well as several of the world's leading CEOs.

Todd continues to appear on CNN as an independent analyst to provide live commentary and analysis, where his views on the global economy, financial markets, Eurozone crisis, and other issues are widely followed.

Todd is a senior advisor to an international management consultancy which works with major companies to transition to a low-carbon economy.

Todd is also a visiting lecturer in leadership at the London Business School Executive Education program. He is an international keynote speaker and moderator.

Todd Benjamin

Speech Topics

- Politics & Current Events
- Media/News Journalists
- Economics