She is often called upon by executives to serve as their thinking partner focused on tough strategic choices that define their impact and legacy. Saj-Nicole never gives advice; instead, she challenges leaders to think more profoundly about the future — in order to be ready to meet it.

Saj-Nicole draws upon her senior leadership expertise as an executive at CSC Index and Microsoft, where she distinguished herself in global strategy, finance and organizational leadership. She has served on a number of boards including public and private companies. She currently serves as a Trustee of the New England Conservatory and on the advisory board of the Simmons School of Management.

Testimonials

▮ "Saj-nicole quickly got to the root of the questions I had about my company's business model. She has a rare ability to think both strategically and tactically in a coherent way, which is what a CEO needs in a sounding board and sparring partner. I found her assistance immensely valuable and recommend her highly."

- CEO, Information Services Company.

▮ "When I first met Saj-nicole, she was immediately helpful, bringing enormous business savvy, and an uncanny ability to zero in on the key areas I needed to focus on. She's much more attuned to the full suite of demands and pressures a CEO is likely to face than the classic senior management consulting partner, which makes her extremely helpful as an inner circle advisor. Saj-nicole has a caring way of being hard-nosed, blunt, but effective. I like and value that about her, even when the truth is difficult to hear."
