

With over 20 years of experience transforming Fortune 50 companies and armed with a reputation as one of the most disruptive and effective advisors to business today, Andy Stefanovich believes companies must reorient their focus toward creativity and innovation in order to sustain strategic growth.

Andy Stefanovich is a dynamic and charismatic leader with a bold vision to change the way business does business and make the world a more creative place. In 1990, he founded a creativity and innovation consulting firm, giving him a platform and voice for encouraging professionals from the mail room to the corner office to think differently. Andy has dedicated his career to guiding companies like GE, WellPoint, Coca-Cola, The Gap and The United States Olympic Committee through the powerful evolution from inspiration to creativity to innovation. He teaches practical skills, leadership behaviors, and specific processes for developing and implementing ideas that fuel sustainable business growth. His philosophy and approach is outlined in his best-selling book, Look At More. Using his signature storytelling style, Andy captures an audience's imagination with a determined passion and inspires them to embrace the possibilities (and profits) that come from thinking differently.
