

There are few situations in the business world that Troy Hazard has not experienced and survived - from massive financial loss to stunning success. The entrepreneurial genius, who has founded and nurtured twelve businesses over two decades, has been a few days from bankruptcy, has turned around businesses that were making enormous losses and has consulted to countless successful companies including Goodyear, Baskin Robbins, Subway, Fisher & Paykel and many more. Hazard's business talents earned him international respect, so much so that he was elected by the worlds foremost business leaders for the role of Global President of the Entrepreneurs' Organization, a role he says was one of his greatest challenges. "That was by far the toughest leadership position I have held," he admits, speaking of an organization that represents a global community of successful business owners. "I was leading leaders who lead leaders who lead people - a large collection of the world's most brilliant business minds, it was extremely challenging, rewarding, and thrilling at the same time."

Hazard's experiences in the business world have allowed him valuable insight into the workings of organizations and the minds of customers. His particular area of specialty is in the franchise space where he has been a leading consultant for nearly 25 years.

It's this same experience that gives Troy Hazard such great value as a CSP - Certified Speaking Professional, and as the host on the hugely successful national network business television shows in Australia 'Inside Franchising' and 'Don't Come Monday'.

He is also the host of his own Cable TV talk show in the USA - 'Gettin' Down 2 Business', on the BizTV Cable Network broadcasting into 20 mil...
