

Born in Memphis, Tennessee, Regional EMMY® nominee Beau Davidson is an international recording artist, songwriter, and actor. Citing Elvis as a main source of inspiration, Beau has always been fascinated by the musical boundaries that Elvis transcended with simultaneous hits on the country, rhythm and blues, and rock 'n' roll charts, as well as his ability to effectively translate his musical talent to the big screen. In Memphis, Beau began taking classical piano lessons at age four, but learned contemporary hits like "Great Balls of Fire" by ear. Beau was soon winning regional talent competitions, competing as a finalist in The Mid-South Fair Youth Talent Contest- a contest graced by Elvis, Justin Timberlake and many other talents. Beau then took his musical aspirations to new heights by attending Northwestern University's prestigious School of Music in Chicago, where he graduated magna cum laude with a degree in vocal performance/opera and political science. In Chicago, Beau appeared as Danny Zuko in Grease and as the leading man in many other productions, including the Lonny Price-directed A Little Night Music, with George Hearn, Patti LuPone, and Zoe Caldwell. Although operatically trained, Beau simply could not relinquish his Memphis roots, and began writing original music that captured his own experience. Beau then moved to Los Angeles where he guest starred on Days of Our Lives and Gilmore Girls. In between projects, he wrote music that he later released as a digital EP. Beau's debut single, "More Than I Can Give," catapulted his career: independent of any record label or production company, the corresponding music video was integrated by CMT, GAC, MTV, and Vh1, indicative of the fact that Beau's music appealed to a diverse audience....

Testimonials

I am writing this letter of recommendation for Beau Davidson after his superior performance for our County Lincoln Day Dinner. Beau more than delivered a great presentation. There were many in the audience with tears in their eyes, and I personally know of two individuals in the audience that as to this point have not been politically involved that informed me they wanted to get involved and be active in the party. I would personally give Beau Davidson a high recommendation to any organization looking for an outstanding speaker/performer.
