

Stephen Frost is a globally recognized diversity, inclusion, and leadership expert, and founded Included in 2012. He leads the team and works with leaders around the world to embed inclusive leadership in their decision-making.

From 2007 to 2012 Stephen designed, led, and implemented the inclusion programs for the London Olympic and Paralympic Games as Head of Diversity and Inclusion for the London Organising Committee. From 2004 to 2007 Stephen established and led the workplace team at Stonewall. Stephen has also led D&I at KPMG and worked in advertising and consulting.

Stephen was a Hertford College Scholar at Oxford and a Fulbright Scholar at Harvard. He remains a Visiting Fellow of the Women and Public Policy Program. He has won various awards from the 2010 Peter Robertson Award for Equality and Diversity Champions and 2011 Young Global Leader by the World Economic Forum to one of Management Today's Change Agents for his race and gender work and 2022 Winds of Change Awards from The Forum on Workplace Inclusion. He has taught Inclusive Leadership at Harvard Business School, Singapore Management University, and Sciences Po in France and advised the British Government, Royal Air Force and the White House. He is the author of The Inclusion Imperative (2014), Inclusive Talent Management (2016), and Building an Inclusive Organization (February 2019).

To book Stephen Frost call Executive Speakers Bureau at 901-754-9404.

Stephen Frost

Speech Topics

- Virtual Keynotes
- Management
- Leadership
- Global Leadership
- Diversity

Testimonials

"A great session, it really hit the mark and was good to see some of our most senior leaders join (and ask questions) during the session. Stephen had super examples and gave practical tools for how to implement D&I into our daily work lives."

- Bank of America.

"Stephen was the keynote speaker at our recent Canadian Supplier Diversity Conference in Toronto. He added great value to the session with his obvious conviction to diversity/inclusivity, his knowledge of this subject, and his humorous/entertaining presentation style. Thanks so much for sharing your zeal; it's contagious!"

- Vice President, Business Development Diversity Business Network (DBN), Toronto, Canada.