

Using exciting new research, developed from years of hands-on business experience, Harry Dent predicts a refreshingly positive and understandable view of the future. He also suggests practical applications at all levels, from business and investment strategy to jobs and changes in the workplace. Although Dent foretold mild setbacks between mid-1995 and 1996, Dent's contrarian forecasts promote a new era of prosperity.

Harry Dent is the author of the successful 1993 book release, The Great Boom Ahead and publishes the H. S. Dent Forecast. His second book, Job Shock: Four New Principles Transforming Our Work and Business was published in 1995. Dent's book on the real estate market was published in 1997.

Since 1988, Harry Dent has spoken to executives around the world. He has been consistently rated in the top 1 % of speakers by the Executive Committee, a worldwide network of business CEOs.

Harry Dent has appeared on Good Morning America, PBS, CNBC, The Business Channel, and has been featured in Fortune, Success, The Wall Street Journal, and Omni.

Dent received his MBA from Harvard Business School, where he was a Baker Scholar. He was elected to the Century Club for leadership excellence, after graduating number one in his class at the University of South Carolina with a degree in accounting and finance. He passed his CPA exam with the highest scores in southern Ohio.

While at Bain & Company, Dent consulted at the highest levels of business strategy to Fortune 100 companies. Dent has been CEO of several growth companies and has acted as a consultant to the leading edge companies that are creating a new economy and charting the future of our country. ## Testimonials

“Eighteen months ago I began selling personal real estate before the bottom dropped in Florida and stopped building a corporate campus in Ohio because of what was learned from the Dent Newsletter and Demographics School. These decisions have been critical in saving millions of dollars both personally and corporately. Additionally, my business has expanded dramatically into the senior and baby boomer health care market due to the demographic research provided by the Dent group.”

Thank you so much for the continued awesome effort placed into each and every update you provide. You have not only the foresight but also the guts to say it how it is with specific advice on how to try to navigate forward during these very strange times. Harry, you met me at the Civic Arts Plaza in Westlake Village, CA. I am a top Real Estate agent and I have been vocally contradictory to the local economist who have been stranglely very optimistic about future house values while I have been predicting a completely different future. Your advice has been hugely beneficial to my work. Please continue the great work. Thank you!
