

My wife and I have been blessed with five amazing kids and numerous successful businesses, yet my path from where I started to where I am now has been filled with countless obstacles. As a kid when I was watching NB basketball games, and playing one on one basketball in the driveway with my friend Joe who loved to wear his David Robinson #50 SPURS jersey I never thought that I would have the pleasure of calling David my business partner. When I was listening to Michael Jackson's "Dangerous" album over and over again, and "Rapper's Delight" by the Sugar Hill Gang, I never thought that I would be working with Michael Jackson's publicist or having phone calls with "Hall of Fame" bassist who recorded Rapper's Delight. As a kid when I grew up stuttering and constantly being made fun of for not being able to speak without stammering I never thought that I would ever be paid to be a public speaker. My friend, I have had an Epic life to this point and you can too, but it all starts with having the belief that you can achieve something great. Once you have this delusional optimism, you then need to have the pig-headed determination to learn and implement the best-practice processes and proven systems that successful people have used to become successful.

Study Successful People. Apply Their Principles. Repeat.

While attending Oral Roberts University it occurred to me that I wasn't going to be able to afford the excellent lifestyle that I wanted if I earned a "normal" income. So I started a business out of my dorm room called DJ Connection. I went on to grow this company into the nation's largest private wedding entertainment company, but it wasn't without some bumps and bruises along the way. ☐ The feedback was fantastic! Overall people in attendance loved your humor and high energy but most importantly the message you delivered. You spoke directly to the business owner and their sweet spot. Your suggestions about simple steps to put into action to be more efficient and customer service driven in their businesses were inspiring. Right on mark for the opening of the HIA-LI Annual Trade show and Conference! We'll definitely keep you mind for other things in the future. Thanks again and please look us up when you're in NY again!

☐ Clay is awesome. I go to two or three of these a year just for my own personal growth and the thing I liked about Clay the most is that he'll ask you about challenges. You present the challenge and he will drill the challenge down to a specific, not a general, but a specific challenge, then he will question you in way to drill down for a solution, a specific solution, which is a benefit to everybody. So it's not just a go out there and do it, here is how you do it. He kept it entertaining, he kept it informative. You can tell he has lots of experience not only with what he has done in his life, but also with other franchises, organizations, and business, so he brings that to the table. Clay can bring many things that can be implemented into our day-to-day operations. He has a great technique, he has an ability and he is blessed.
