

You don't have to shoot yourself in the head to learn how not to shoot yourself in the foot. Ken Futch has already taken care of that, and he's ready to tell you how to make the most of whatever life fires your way.

Motivational. Energetic. Insightful. Laugh-out-loud funny.

Ken draws from years of experiences in every imaginable setting and hones his messages into razor-sharp, relatable and resonant works of art. These are just some of the ways people describe Ken and his presentations. A Certified Professional Speaker, with more than twenty years experience entertaining and motivating fortune 100 companies.

From the ESSO station in Burgaw, N.C. to the jungles of Vietnam (and corporate America), Ken has a plethora of uplifting stories in his arsenal. There's the time a mule stepped on his head, and the time a crazed hog attacked him. His nose won't ever be quite the same after a fisherman's boat paddle smashed it. But Ken's own worst enemy could've been himself. Could've? That's right, he shot himself. In the head. Accidentally. But this master of turning negatives into positives, hells into heavens and situations into opportunities says he couldn't have asked for a more fortunate break—a luckier shot, so to speak.

"It took a shot through the head to open my mind," he says.

Ken's audiences leave his seminars with a new perspective on the daily grind and a fresh outlook on ways to get the absolute most out of their jobs and their lives. Ken tailors his keynote speeches and seminars to your specific needs. He uses his personal experience to deliver your message in an evocative, humorous and thought-provoking manner. He challenges his attendees to break out of the inevitable daily routine and motivates them to take control of their...

Testimonials

"Out of the ball park. Home run. Our member with Dell from Ireland turned to me during your talk and said, 'This is worth the registration fee!' Wow ! To meet someone's expectations in the opening general session is really a coup!"

- Association of Professionals in Business Management President, Roxanne McCreery .

"Rarely have I seen a speaker weave so many different examples into such a humorous, yet thought provoking presentation. Your tale of shooting yourself in the head, complete with actual tabloid coverage was the piece-de-resistance!"

- Dan Maddux, Executive Director, American Payroll Association .
