

Linda Johnson Rice is Chairman of Johnson Publishing Company (JPC). JPC is comprised of a one of a kind archive of 4 million photographs, dating from the late 1940s to the present, featured in EBONY and Jet magazines, 200 works of art by modern African-American artists and Fashion Fair Cosmetics, a global prestige cosmetics brand for women of color. She is also Chairman Emeritus of EBONY Media Holdings, the parent company for EBONY and Jet brands.

Rice has extensive corporate board service experience having served on Bausch & Lomb, Continental Bank, Quaker Oats, Dial Corporation, MoneyGram and Kimberly-Clark Corporation. Ms. Rice currently serves on the board of directors of Omnicom Group and Grubhub.

Ms. Rice's leadership with not for profit organizations is extensive as well. She is a Trustee at the Art Institute of Chicago, President of the Chicago Public Library Board of Directors, Co-Chair of the Founding Council of The Smithsonian's National Museum of African American History and Culture, board member of After School Matters, Northwestern Memorial Corporation and the United Negro College Fund. In recognition of her leadership and achievements, the Chicago Sun-Times named Rice among Chicago's "100 Most Powerful Women" and one of the "Top 10 Women in Media." Crain's Chicago Business named her one of "The 20 Most Powerful Women in Chicago Business." She also received the Women of Power Award from the National Urban League, the Trumpet Award from Turner Broadcasting, the Alumni Merit Award from the University of Southern California, and the Alumni of the Year Award from the Black Management Association at Northwestern University's Kellogg School of Management. Rice holds a BA in Journalis...

Linda Johnson Rice

Speech Topics

- ☐ Women's Issues
- ☐ Women in Business
- ☐ Politics & Current Events
- ☐ Personal Growth
- ☐ Overcoming Adversity
- ☐ Media

