

Bestselling Author, Speaker and Executive Coach, Fatima Doman has motivated audiences across five continents to leverage their authentic strengths for transformation. One of today's most influential voices in engagement, well-being, and positive change, Doman is passionate about empowering people for sustainable high performance—at work and in life. Doman's experience as a refugee fleeing her country of birth in the wake of war informs her work to help people build resilience in the midst of challenges. Her books, Authentic Strengths, and True You: Authentic Strengths for Kids have been featured by the Huffington Post, Psychology Today, on TV, Radio, e-learning, and her workshops have been licensed globally. For decades Doman has worked successfully with Fortune 100 and Fortune 500 clients representing a variety of industries, and with educators around the globe.

As Founder of Authentic Strengths Advantage® Doman shares innovative, evidence-based tools rooted in the groundbreaking science of Positive Psychology—motivating audiences to bring out the best in themselves and in those they influence. Her compelling message inspires positive leadership while boosting emotional intelligence. Doman has served as Co-Founder/Co-Director of FranklinCovey's Global Executive Coaching Practice, as Faculty for the FranklinCovey/Columbia Business School Executive Coach Certification Program, and has managed certification/developed content for the internationally acclaimed 7 Habits of Highly Effective People. Her post-graduate work includes an Advanced Executive Coaching Certification from the Columbia Business School Coaching Program and an MA in Communication.

Testimonials

“ This book will help you reach your goals in a deceptively simple but transformative way - by learning to become an inner ally rather than being your own worst enemy.” ”

- Assoc. Prof. Human Dev. and Culture, Univ. of Texas at Austin.

“ Finally, an experienced voice in the world of leadership and coaching has built a model of personal growth that fully leverages the powerful set of tools we all possess - our strengths of character. While other books on coaching make reference to the importance of strengths, this book is the first to make this strategy explicit. For a practical guide to use your strengths to determine and pursue meaningful personal goals, read this book!” ”

- Founder and Chairman of the VIA Institute on Character.
