Testimonials

“ Mark was with us today at a meeting that was a kickoff of our business planning process. We wanted to send a message to our bottling partners and our own teams about the need for change and the importance of looking at innovation from a process standpoint. I think also that the material shared by Mark was very well received and people were excited about his comments. I think this will make our meeting go much smoother as we look to promote change in our business. Alfredo Rivera, President, Latin Central, Coca Cola Company. ”

“ I've had the pleasure and the privilege of being in the audience with you Mark, today. It was an inspiration. The observation of the people that you've worked for, the experiences that you've got, the way that you bring that to life with such clarity, humor, and passion and energy, was really quite inspiring. It made a big difference to me and I know the members of my team here today. So, it was fantastic and if I get a chance to come and see you again, I'll be taking that opportunity. Thank you. Thank you. It was really truly remarkable. ”
