

Is the morale of your people low due to our challenging economy? Are you finding it difficult to motivate them to achieve their goals? If so, consider a high energy, uplifting motivational keynote that will rock them out of their complacency.

Get Out of Your Own Way is a rock and roll motivational keynote experience unlike anything you've ever seen or heard.

Do your leaders speak and present with the same confidence with which they lead? Do they engage people's attention with metaphors and stories that stimulate their listener's imagination? Do they know how to inspire, influence and motivate?

If not, you need Doug Stevenson's Emotional Eloquence - The Lost Language of Leadership program. Are your leaders, managers and salespeople looking for a competitive advantage?

Do your sales people rely too heavily on facts and data, features and benefits? Do they rely on PowerPoint to sell instead of delivering powerful and engaging presentations? If you want your people to out sell the competition, you need Doug Stevenson's Storytelling in Business is Serious.

Doug is the creator of The Story Theater Method for strategic storytelling in business and author of the book Doug Stevenson's Story Theater Method, formerly titled Never Be Boring Again. He is also the creator of The 21-Step How to Write and Deliver a Dynamite Speech System. He not only presents transformational speeches, he analyzes and reveals what he has just done. Not only does he make you laugh and cry, he teaches you how he does it. He's like a magician who performs a wonderful magic trick, and then takes you behind the curtain to show you all of his secrets. Doug Stevenson is a former professional actor who spent 20 years per...
