

Gerald Celente, Director and founder of The Trends Research Institute®, is the pioneer in forecasting, analyzing, and MANAGING trends. Celente designed and currently teaches the first professional course in trend tracking. Using his unique perspectives on current events forming future trends he developed the Globalnomic® methodology which is used to forecast and manage trends. Published and documented evidence proves that the Institute has produced the most accurate, timely and comprehensive forecast. Gerald Celente's extensive range of knowledge and expertise makes him a favorite of major media. They call on him for unique perspectives on the current events forming future trends. He is the world's only analyst who covers 300 diversified trends fields. His up-to-the-minute analysis on a broad spectrum of topics is sought by the media The Today Show, Good Morning America, CBS This Morning, 48 Hours, The Oprah Winfrey Show cable and radio news including CNN, CBS, ABC, NBC, PBS, BBC, MSNBC, CNBC, National Public Radio, Canadian Radio Systems newspapers and magazines including The New York Times, Los Angeles Times, Chicago Tribune, Washington Post, USA Today, The Independent, The Wall Street Journal, Entrepreneur, Time, Business Week, Financial Times, U.S. News and World Report, Investors Business Daily, The Economist, and other major media domestic and world wide.

Gerald Celente is recognized by the MAJOR MEDIA as the truth in trends. In addition to providing specialized trend research services, Mr. Celente is called upon by corporations and associations to deliver keynote addresses and seminar presentations worldwide.

To book Gerald Celente call Executive Speakers Bureau at 901-754-9404.

Gerald Celente

Speech Topics

- Economics
- Business Trends

