

James Crupi is a recognized authority in international business, future trends, and leadership development and is an internationally popular speaker. His leadership workshops are world renowned. He works with executives on the development of strategy and training of the management team and is repeatedly asked to provide insights that align strategy and enhance productivity and competitiveness. Jim has been featured on CNN and National Public Radio, and quoted in many publications throughout the world.

When the Army wanted all their General Officers trained for the changes affecting its future, it turned to James Crupi. Jim is a strategic advisor to the Chief of Staff of the Army for Leader Development, Innovation, and Army Transformation and is a lead trainer in the Army's prestigious Strategic Leadership Course for all Army Generals. He has been given access to every officer and unit in the Army and is helping them rethink the future, design leader development efforts, and reexamine the way it does business.

Jim has served as a consultant to the Office of the President of the United States and does work for many Fortune 1000 corporations, including Coca Cola, Turner Broadcasting Corporation, EDS, Intel, Cisco Systems, CB Richard Ellis, Phelps Dodge and IBM among others. He served in the armed forces as a company commander and instructor at the elite Army Ranger School.

Leadership speaker James Crupi received his B.S. degree from North Georgia College, M.S. from the University of Southern California, and Ph.D. from the University of Florida. He has completed advanced work at the London Business School, Oxford University, and the International Management Institute in Geneva. 901-754-9404.

Testimonials

"You are rated as the best speaker we've had - in quality of delivery, content, and getting our brains working - thinking about our business and our company in new ways."

- PCL.

"Jim gets people to understand that with the right tools they can achieve great things. His ultimate gift is that he teaches you not so much what to think as how to think."
